Editorial.

The Democrats will now get on their fighting clothes.

Hon. Chas. T. Duke, of Monticello, was nominated by the Regular Republicans, as a candidate for Secretary of State.

It is only about two months until the State election. We are not advised, as yet, whether there will be a joint canvass or not between the candidates of the two parties.

PEOPLE should be more charitable than to accuse every man of selling out who does not act as they think he ought. Circumstances may be ever so suspicious and even then not point to the truth.

"De cullud brudder" bobbed up serenely in the Regular Republican convention at Little Rock, last week; but his absence was very conspicuous among the Insurgents. Perhaps the latter's motto is: "No coon need apply."

THE Insurgent Republicans only put out one candidate, Mr. Greaves, of Hot Springs, for Governor. Just who these gentlemen will vote for the other state officers we do not know. If the whole gang, leader and all, will come over to the Democratic party we will give them a cordial welcome. There is no earthly chance of Mr. Greaves being elected, anyway, and he and his followers might just as well vote for the Democrats, and thus cut themselves clear away from the Republican office-grabbing crew.

EVEN the Republicans of Arkansas do not do things by halves. They nominated two candidates for Governor last week. The Regulars nominated Hon. Harry Meyers and the Insurgents, Hon. Chas. D. Greaves. The Republicans seem to have ignored the aphorism, that "brethren should dwell together in unity."

We believe that it is very probable that Roosevelt will be the nominee of the Republican party for President; and in that event if the New York Democracy will get together Hill will be the most logical candidate for the Democracy. Hill is more popular with the South than almost any other Eastern man. He is a broad-gauge Democrat and would make an ideal President.

Col. James Mitchell, of the Arkansas Democrat, died on the 27th inst., and in his death the State of Arkansas loses one of its most brilliant, patriotic and able men. He was truly a great and honest man. One who never failed to express his honest convictions, and always stood up for what he believed to be for the best interests of his State and people. No man in Arkansas has done more to place the State upon a high plane before the outside world than Col. Mitchell. He was always bold, brave and determined. True to himself, true to his native State and true to the people, a noble man has gone from us.

DEMOCRATIC DUTY.

Of the two platforms adopted by the two factions of the Republican party, at Little Rock, last week, that of the Insurgents was the most liberal, the most sensible and appealed more to reason than to prejudice. Of course, there is not a ghost of a chance for either the Regulars or Insurgents to succeed, in the present campaign, in Arkansas; but if the insurgents continue in their course and remain true to the principles they proclaim, it may be well for the Democrats to get together and be more friendly inclined, instead of abusing and vilifying one another, as they have been doing. It is useless to disguise the fact, that many of the young men of the country have allied themselves with the Insurgent wing of the Republican party in Arkansas, who by education, and environment should be Democrats; and to what extent such a thing may continue rests largely with the Democratic party. It must convince the country that it exists for more purposes than mere office-holding. Its leaders must cease calling one another "thieves, cut-throats and villains." Candidates for places in the Democratic party must study statecraft instead of political juggling; they must be patriots instead of demagogues, they must stand by the people (when elected) and faithfully carry out the pledges they make when seeking votes. The principles of Democracy are the purest and best and its theories of government are the soundest and safest; but to insure confidence these must be faithfully administered by those to whom the people delegate the task.

The very name of Democracy is dear to many of the older men of this country, for they still remember that it was through its agency that the galling yoke of reconstruction was removed from the necks of the people, and with those the mere announcement that "I am a Democrat" is sufficient, but with the younger element—those who have grown to manhood since the dark days of carpet-bag rule—the same potency does not attach. We must convince them by works that the Democratic party is best for the people, best for the state, and this can be done, not by high-sounding declarations and promises, to be broken as readily as made, but by a steady and faithful adherence to the cardinal principles of the party. Let the Democrats cease wrangling and abusing each other, and hold their leaders responsible for ever dereliction of duty, and that grand old party, in Arkansas, especially, will remain invincible to the onslaughts of every foe.

Seven Years in Bed.

"Wonders ever cease?" inquire the friends of Mrs. L. Pease of Lawrence, Kan. They knew she had been unable to leave her bed in seven years on account of kidney and liver trouble, nervous prostration and general debility; but "three bottles of Electric Bitters enabled me to walk," she writes, "and in three months I felt like a new person." Women suffering from headache, backache, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, fainting and dizzy spells will find it a priceless blessing. Try it. Satisfaction is guaranteed by R. E. Vance Bordeaux. Only 50c.

ALDERMAN A. B. POE

Will Marry Miss Lillian Watson of Magnolia July 15th

The Magnolia News gives the following notice of the approaching marriage of one of Little Rock's most popular business men, a member of the city council:

"Cards are out announcing the approaching nuptials of Miss Lillian Watson, who will be wedded to Mr. A. B. Poe of Little Rock on July 15th. The marriage is to occur in the capital city, a number of friends from this place having been invited to attend. Miss Lillian is popularly known in our city, having resided here last fall, while the groom is spoken of as one of Little Rock's capitalists. The couple will leave on a bridal tour to New York and Niagara Falls. In advance this paper extends its best wishes.—Ark. Dem.

Saves Two From Death.

"Our little daughter had an almost fatal attack of whooping cough and bronchitis," writes Mrs. W. K. Haviland, of Armonk, N. Y., "but, when all other remedies failed, we saved her life with Dr. King's New Discovery. Our niece who had consumption in an advanced stage, also used this wonderful medicine and to-day she is perfectly well." Desperate throat and lung diseases yield to Dr. King's New Discovery as to no other medicine on earth. Infallible for coughs and colds. 50c and $1.00 bottles guaranteed by R. E. Vance Bordeaux. Trial bottles free.

Wilmar Snap Shots.

A good rain fell Saturday morning—enough to about finish making early corn. We heard of wind North of Wilmar, but none to do any damage here.

Crops, generally, look promising. Very early corn was slightly injured by the dry weather in the early part of June. A large crop of peas, for hay, is being sown in this part of the county. Nothing like having more than one thing to depend upon for feed.

There is a considerable religious interest awakened in and around Wilmar during the last two months. Some two months ago the A. R. Presbyterians, near Allis, had several accessions to that Church. Two weeks ago, Rev. Breedlove, of the Christian Church, held a few services, during which he had several accessions to his Church. That denomination have had no Church or organization in Wilmar; but we understand they contemplate organizing and building a Church here soon.

This week, Rev. J. W. Simms, pastor of the Baptist Church here, has a protracted meeting in progress. Up to the present time there is considerable interest manifested in the meeting, and several accessions to their Church. It is specially noticeable and gratifying to the Christian people that among the recent professions and accessions to the Church are quite a number of the business and other leading men of the town.

The Baptist people, of Wilmar, are having their Church painted and a belfry built for their new bell, which adds much to the beauty of their Church. The Methodist people are having their parsonage painted.

Dr. J. D. Pope, of Monticello, visited his daughter, Mrs. Downy, last week.

Mr. J. F. Koonce, Sr., visited his sons last week in Pine Bluff and Memphis.

Prof M. A. Leiper, who has been teaching the past year in Beauvoir, left this week for Malvern and other points.

Mr. Jack Downy, of Wilmot, is visiting home folks. He brought with him a St. Bernard dog. He is a large and fine looking animal.

Mr. Perry Lambert, Jr., recently of Dermott, has opened up a jewelry shop in Wilmar.

Read It In His Newspaper.

George Schaub, a well known German citizen of New Lebanon, Ohio, is a constant reader of the Dayton Volkszeitung. He knows that this paper aims to advertise only the best in its columns, and when he saw Chamberlain's Pain Balm advertised therein for lame back, he did not hesitate in buying a bottle of it for his wife, who for eight weeks had suffered with the most terrible pains in her back and could get no relief. He says: "After using Pain Balm for a few days my wife said to me, 'I feel as though born anew,' and before using the entire contents of the bottle the unbearable pains entirely vanished and she could again take up her household duties." He is very thankful and hopes that all suffering likewise will hear of her wonderful recovery. This valuable liniment is for sale by Brown, McQuiston & Co.

Died.

Little Claude Chambers, oldest son of Mrs. Georgia Chambers.

He was born Aug. 24, 1895, and died June 11, 1902, with that dread disease, congestion.

Dr. Sykes was the attending physician. All that medical aid and loving hands could do was done for his restoration to health; but God had called him to join his father, who but a short time ago passed from earth to glory, and he had to go.

Little Claude was a bright, intelligent boy, for his age, and the joy and pride of his mother and little sister, Mary. He will be missed so much by them. He was loved by all with whom he came in contact; but God, who doeth all things well, saw fit in his allwise providence to take him to Glory, there to be with his father, and last, but not least, to be with Jesus.

Weep not, dear ones, for little

Claud; for he has gone the way of all flesh, and it will not be long before you will join him in that happy home, where there is no sorrow, sickness, pain nor death—but all will be joy, peace and happiness.

Oh, what a happy meeting there will be, when husband and wife, father and mother, son and daughter all meet around God's white throne.

A Terrible Explosion.

"Of a gasoline stove burned a lady here frightfully," writes N. E. Palmer, of Kirkman, Ia. "The best doctors couldn't heal the running sore that followed, but Bucklen's Arnica Salve entirely cured her." Infallible for cuts, corns, sores, boils, bruises, skin diseases and piles. 25c at Our Drug Store.

Notice.

Notice is hereby given that a contract will be let for building a bridge across Sanderlin Creek on Tuesday, July 15th 1902, to be let to the lowest and best bidder and to be built according to specifications now on file in the County Clerk's office. The contractor to give bond with approved security for the faithful performance of his contract, according to said specifications. Said contract to be let at public outcry, at the Court House door, in Monticello, on the day above mentioned.

"THE BEST IS THE CHEAPEST."
Not how cheap, but how good, is the question.
The Twice-a-week Republic is not as cheap as some so-called newspapers. But it is as cheap as it is possible to sell a first-class newspaper. It prints all the news that is worth printing. If you read it all the year round, you are posted on all the important and interesting affairs of the world. It is the best and most reliable newspaper that money and brains can produce—and those should be the distinguishing traits of the newspaper that is designed to be read by all members of the family.
